

Bahina Jewels celebrates love of colour and fine design

'Antigua' ear studs in 18-karat gold with carnelian, garnet and blue Venetian glass cameo

Bahina Jewels wants to attract more buyers from Asia with its "happy jewellery" collection now on display at the September Hong Kong fair.

Majority of the items are finished jewellery items in 18-karat yellow and white gold set with coloured stones and hand-made cameo

Venetian Glass from Italy.

Retail prices range from US$1,300 to US$9,500, depending on the item's gold content.

The company said it wants to attract sellers who are looking for something different and special as well as those with several stores and boutiques.

'Gold Rush' ear studs in 18-karat gold with moonstone, quartz and sapphire

'Antigua' ear pendants in 18-karat gold with red Venetian glass cameo, garnet, carnelian, citrine, peridot, blue topaz, iolite and amethyst

Akima entices with gemstones and pearls

Akima Jewellery Ltd's new collection of gemstone and pearl jewellery is on display at the September Hong Kong Fair.

The company said it combined gemstones, pearls and diamonds to create a stunning new collection. "We have various designs with coloured stones, pearls and diamonds in 14- or 18-karat gold," Akima said.

Retail products are priced from US$100 to US$1,000.

The company is targeting wholesalers and chain stores from the Middle East, Europe and Southeast Asia.

Necklace with diamonds and tourmaline in 18-karat gold

