

Cannes-Do Attitude

Hollywood's most stylish redheads hit the French Riviera in full fashion force

Julianne Moore

The Oscar-winning actress arrived at the opening ceremony in a blaze of glory: a fiery feathered Givenchy Haute Couture gown—high-necked but still sexy thanks to the sleeveless cut and slightly sheer bodice—and wing-like ruby earrings by longtime Cannes sponsor Chopard. Normally we'd scoff at such a matchy-matchy look, but the red dress, red jewels, and red hair equal red-carpet perfection. Points for resisting a red lip, which would have been way over the top.

Jessica Chastain

As a jury member at the 70th annual Cannes, Chastain wore one amazing gown after another—all with a range of striking Piaget jewels (an oversize diamond ear cuff, a ruby and diamond collar, a tassel pearl necklace worn backward). But we adore this mix of multicolor drop earrings with a shimmering halter-style Armani Privé gown. The tangerine fabric and the pink, red, and green jewels produce a sort of rainbow effect—both whimsical and elegant at once.
